The Tourist Is Homesick

"Buy war bonds and stamps now—see California after the war."

That advertisement, appearing in newspapers of the east, is bringing a flow of letters from war-bound tourists eager to answer its call, according to officials of Californians, Inc.

It has resulted in appreciative editorials as far away as New York, where the Journal-American terms the advertising "an invaluable form of war insurance."

Skillful advertising is always affective—if it presents an attractive appeal honestly. There is every reason for every American to invest every cent he can spare in war bonds and stamps, whatever he intends to do with the money saved when peace returns. There can be no prospect more pleasant for the spending of the money than a trip through magic California.

And it is good to know, in these grim times, that the tourist is homesick for his adoped vacation state.

SAVE IT TODAY

The Agriculture Department warns that the nation's supply of fats and vegetable oils is dangerously low, because war has shut off former sources of these imports. A new domestic source must be tapped for these supplies, vital in the making of explosives, and that source is America's kitchens. Save waste fats and grease. Delivered to the nation's butchers, they'll help carry forward the war to victory and put the Axis on the griddle.

A BILLION FOR JULY

In war stamp and bond sales July should be a billion dollar month, with your help. It's still not too late. Buy today and do your bit!

LITTLE SALESMEN

Children can be so angelic,
That you wonder if they're well:
But beware of them dear parents,
While they're under such a spell.
They are probably concoctin'
Some deviltry so neat,
That when it breaks around you,
You're swept right off your feet.

After turmoil has subsided
And before you've quite decided
Just what kind of discipline you're goin's to use,
They're again as good as pie
And the discipline you try,
Doesn't seem to take effect. Why, oh why?
Well, you haven't got the knack,
Better practice 'fore you whack.

Here's the reason, think it over
While they're out to play with Rover:
They're born diplomats and salesmen,
Yes siree!
Come on parents, start confessin',
That it's you who need the lesson!
Better take a tip from them,
So's you can be as great salesmen.

SUNNY SAL
Campbell, Calif.

The Red Cross sewing room will be closed until Wednesday, Sept. 16, Mrs. Ray Wood has announced. The recess has been decided upon because of lack of sewers, as so many of the women are engaged in fruit work. A request is made for all who can help to bear the date in mind, as it is expected that another quota of supplies will be ready.

Canning of apricots at the Drew Canning company was completed this week and the canning of peaches will start about August 10 it was reported.

Recital to be Given by Pupils Of Mrs. Bergeron

Invitations have been sent out to friends for an informal recital to be given by pupils of Mrs. Kathleen Bergeron from her Piano Studio for Children.

The recital will be held at the David A. Sanders residence at three o'clock, Friday afternoon, July 31.

The pupils will play many well-known selections taken from the Oxford Piano course and will transpose some of the compositions. Solos, duets and trios will demonstrate the ability of the young musicians.

Pupils of Mrs. Bergeron who are taking part are Norwood Blackmun, Pauline Cleveland, Joline Howard, Diane Mayo, Margy Pierce, Joan and Mardel Sanders, Kay Stoner and Marcia Ward.

Minute Men Meet Monday

The Campbell Minute Men of the California State Militia met as usual at the home of T. A. Cutting on Monday evening.

A letter from Capt. James R. Thompson of Sacramento headquarters stating that the petition for a license had been received and found to be in order, was read. Accompanying the letter was a definite program of activities to be followed, including drilling, marching, first aid, chemical defense, defense against air and mechanized attack, military discipline, and guard duty.

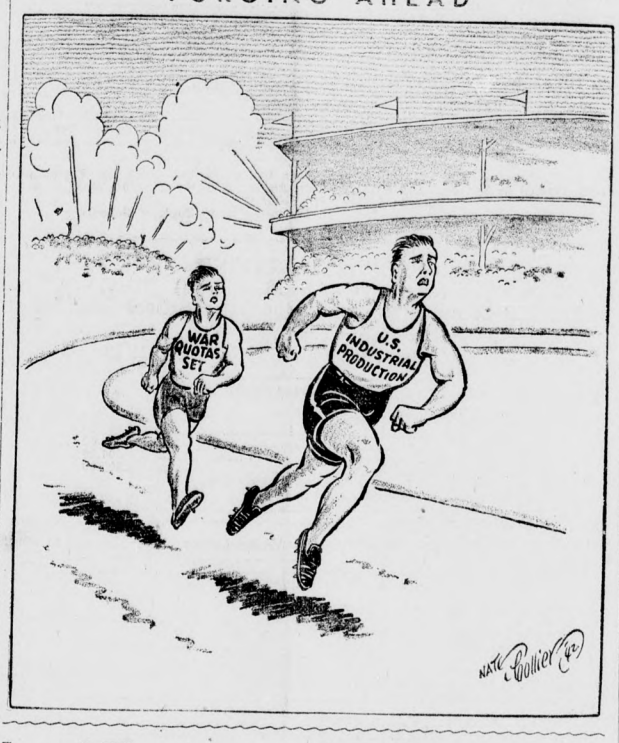

George Husted reported that he had secured permission to use a range in the creek bed for target practice. Leigh Saunders was assigned to give instruction at the meeting next Monday night in military discipline and courtesy. The ranks are still open to new recruits.

Trout Will be Put in Reservoirs

Santa Clara valley reservoirs will be stocked with trout again in the very near future, according to an announcement made by Assemblyman Byrl R. Salsman, who is now a candidate for the State Senate. Word has been received by Salsman from the State Division of Fish and Game, indicating that the Coyote Reservoir will be stocked with trout in the fall, probably in early September. The Stevens Creek Reservoir will be stocked in the early spring with approximately twenty thousand fish.

Murray L. Martin of Campbell, soldier stationed with a military police unit at Fort Mason, Calif., went shopping for new chevrons this week following his promotion from corporal to sergeant. Sgt. Martin, a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Martin, 19 Page street, Campbell, entered the army in March of last year.

FORGING AHEAD

Local Theater Is Exhibiting Good Pictures

It is not generally known that the management of the local theater is now in the hands of George E. Arlidge, who has been a resident of Campbell for many years.

Since he took over the management the quality of pictures exhibited has greatly improved, and it is quite evident that considerable trouble and special efforts are being taken to provide for patrons, not only good entertainment, but comfort and cleanliness in the theater.

Many alterations have been made, and others will be completed as soon as the necessary labor can be obtained. Last week the interior of the theater was being painted.

It is a great pleasure to know that the spectacular four star picture "King's Row" which has drawn crowds wherever shown, is being exhibited here on Friday of this week with showings at 7:10 and 10:10 p. m., and on Saturday with showings at 2:25, 5:45, 8:50 p. m., together with a companion picture "South of the Santa Fe," all at the usual prices. Other important bookings are "My Favorite Blond" "Blondie Goes to College," "Dangerously They Live," "Torpedo Boat," "The Spoilers," "In This Our Life," "Always in my Heart," and many others of equal merit.

Mr. and Mrs. Y. O. Rhea were in San Francisco Sunday and attended the Ice Follies which they thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McQueen of Eureka were visiting last week with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Paul B. Martinez, 29, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving and on Monday was fined $100 and had his drivers license suspended for six months. He appeared before Police Judge Percy O'Connor in San Jose.

Americanization Classes Donate Funds to P.-T. A.

Willard H. Van Dyke, principal of Campbell Union High school, announces that the members of the Americanization classes at the high school have donated their registration fees to the high school P.-T. A. As this fee is usually refunded to each member upon completion of the course, their generosity in giving it to the P.-T. A. is greatly appreciated.

The executive board plans to find some use for the money that will be in keeping with the spirit of these new Americans in giving it.

Funeral Rites for Wilson Babcock Held Here

Funeral services were held Monday from the Rutheford Funeral Home for Wilson Babcock, who was born Jan. 2, 1864 and passed away on July 24.

Mrs. Alma Morton was organist and Clyde M. Sage the soloist. The service was conducted by Elders A. O. Sage and J. D. Hayes. Interment was in Santa Clara City cemetery.

Mrs. Edna F. Smith spent four days over the week-end in San Francisco, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Krohn. She and her daughter celebrated their joint birthday by attending the Ice Follies on Monday.

B. J. Andries, third class seaman in the signal corps, is spending a five day furlough with his wife and her mother, Mrs. Monica Parr and sisters, the Misses Jane and Martha Parr. He expects to be assigned to a submarine chaser when he reports for duty .

Teddy Cutting, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Cutting, is now in the army, at present stationed at Fort McArthur.

Campbell High P.-T. A. Continues Salvage Program

Campbell High P.-T. A. salvage program is continuing throughout the summer, despite the uncertainty of the various agencies as to how salvage should be handled.

A large quantity of glass, tin and paper has been collected, but at present there appears to be no sale for these materials.

In order to facilitate storage, tin cans should be cleaned, opened at both ends, labels removed, and the cans flattened. The public is asked not to bring in any more newspapers unless they are securely tied in bundles.

Those materials most needed, according to the War Production Board, are scrap iron, steel, copper, rags and rubber. These may be brought to the Observation Post on the high school grounds at any time.

Knopf-Wyman Nuptials Held In Nevada

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Wyman of San Jose have announced the marriage of their daughter to Theodore David Knopf. The ceremony was performed in Carson City on May 24.

Knopf, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Knopf of Campbell, attended San Jose State college and University of Nevada. The bride also attended San Jose State. The young people are living in Campbell at the corner of San Jose-Los Gatos road and Campbell avenue.

Mrs. R. P. Doetsch Called by Death

Mrs. Ruth E. Doetsch, wife of Ralph P. Doetsch, and mother of Ralph P. Doetsch, Jr., passed away in San Jose Sunday.

She was a native of Campbell, but 23 years of age, a sister of Harold, Clinton and Fred Hocking and Mrs. Myra Gilligan.

Funeral rites were observed Tuesday in San Jose and interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

The Campbell chamber of commerce is starting a membership drive this week, according to Martin S. Walsh, secretary, who urges that persons interested in civic improvement in the community enroll now.

The Campbell Sanitary district established a unique record of tax payments with a percent total of delinquencies of last fiscal year of only .009 as reported by Tax Collector Roy Emerson.

Messrs. and Mesdames Lowell Benson, Ray Mathis, Jack Murdock and Axel Granstrom and son Richard, enjoyed a reunion in an outdoor picnic of barbecued food at the Murdock home recently.

"Social Program" Topic of Talk at Kiwanis Meeting

Capt. Thomas McGowan of the Salvation Army discussed the "Social Program In This War" at Tuesdays meeting of the Kiwanis club for which E. R. Kennedy was chairman of program period.

There was a large delegation of outside club members, from San Jose, Earl King, Jim Sheffield, and J. M. McKinnon; Maurice Moore, of Mt. View; Dr. Ed Kilbourne of Los Gatos and Bill Hocking of Berkeley. Visitors were Collin McKinnon of Berkeley and David T. Bunker of San Jose.

Carol D. Smith, local manager of the Campbell Products company will explain the dehydrating of vegetables at the next meeting, and after explaining the industry, will conduct the club members through the plant. Chairman will be Cyril Peterman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Purmort, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benson and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Murdock attended the first annual birthday party of the San Lorenzo valley club at Brookdale, last evening.

Ralph A. Smith Receives Degree

Ralph A. Smith recently received a Ph. D. degree in zoology at Cornell University where he has been a part time teacher while continuing his studies for the doctorate degree. He is teaching a summer school course in anatomy at Cornell this summer.

Young Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith of San Jose, who were residents of Campbell at one time when they established the Cheerio Corner store and service station. His wife is the former Sallie R. Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Davidson of Budd avenue.

Parents of both the younger Smiths are anticipating a visit with them in September when they plan to come west.

The volunteers of the Campbell Fire department were called out in force this afternoon at 1:30 to extinguish a blaze of unknown origin in a small building at the rear of the Noyer home on First street. The fire had reached such headway that building was completely destroyed along with some chicken in a yard in the rear. But the firemen kept the blaze under control and from spreading to adjacent homes. This is the first fire that Campbell has had for many months and a huge crowd gathered to watch the blaze and the excellent work of the volunteers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Flood have sold their home on Third street and are now residing at 120 West Campbell avenue, until they can locate permanently in Campbell.

GANDHI'S GAMBLE

The frail and venerable little man who is a mighty power in guiding the destinies of India's millions voices, we fear, a very dubious hope.

"If luck favors us," Gandhi announces, "The Japanese may see no reason to hold the country (India) after the Allies have withdrawn, if they discover they are not wanted." Gandhi gives the Japanese warlords credit for more sensitive feelings than anyone else has ever observed in them. For more than five years, China's valorous millions have been trying to drive that self-same idea into the heads of the Japanese, and the Nipponese still apparently haven't gotten the idea they're not wanted in China. They ascribe the opposition to wilful, unenlightened stubbornness.

How India's much less adequately armed people could hope to impress upon Japanese invaders the fact that they were unwanted in India, is a mystery which the Mahatma will have to unravel himself. It was, in spirit, a policy of non-violence which Western powers applied to Hitler up to September, 1939. Instead of appeasing the Nazi tiger, non-resistance simply whetted its lust for booty and blood.

NO. AMATEURS, MAESTRO?

Pity the amateur musician! He's a menace to neighborhood peace and quiet during his fearsome apprenticeship when the wavering bleats of his saxophone or trumpet may actually place his personal safety in jeopardy.

Nevertheless, the great day usually arrives when he makes the grade, and joins the high school orchestra or college band. Radio appearances with the orchestra often follow, but strictly in an amateur capacity. But this happy prospect now appears doomed. The chief of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL) has just issued a ukase banning amateur talent from the air. The amateurs are stealing bread from the mouths of professional musicians, declares maestro Petrillo in outlawing non-professionals from the air waves. The amateur music-maker is used to hard knocks. He'll doubtless survive this newest one. The real question is whether a free radio can survive a ruling which says, in effect, stations can broadcast only the music that wins the approval and permission of labor officialdom.

THE FAMILY'S GROWING

With more than two million civilians on the Federal payrolls today—an increase of 58 per cent in one year!—it's none too soon that a measure has appeared in the House, designed to flush draft-dodging officials or employees from the protective ambush of government jobs. To date, draft boards have been left in the dark on the question of government deferments, yet there is good reason to accept the charge of Rep. Celler that there are "dozens of hundreds of government workers squatting in deferred jobs who have no right to them."

Many such posts, now held by able-bodied men in their twenties and thirties, could be adequately filled for the duration by older men. The former could obviously render a greater service to their country behind fighting lines than behind government desks. The public has a right to expect no favoritism. Draft boards are entitled to a clear-cut policy on the government deferment problems they are now wrestling with. The government's great and growing family, no more than the families of our millions of Mr. and Mrs. John Does, is entitled to no special favors!

Cost of Eyeglasses

The average annual outlay for eyeglasses is only $2.73 among all families in villages and towns of Central states, according to a survey made by the bureau of home economics of the U. S. department of agriculture. The survey disclosed that only about one in every five families had expenditures for eyeglasses in any one year, and that of the families having such expenditures, the outlay averaged $14.58 per family.

MY CREED

Justice—essential justice—is to render to each his due, whether his skin is black, red or white, irrespective of his class, creed, or circumstance. It means to be just and equitable to all persons of every faith, race, or nationality in the administration of the laws of the land. It is the recognition of the inalienable rights of every individual, with equal justice to all and special privileges to none.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"The Phantom Filly" by George Agnew Chamberlain.

Horse lovers, particularly lovers of race horses, will be more than interested in Mr. Chamberlain's new book—they will be intrigued and deeply fascinated. Those of you who do not profess to be connoisseurs of the racing quadruped, and I am one of the latter, will find in this book as sincere, as sweet and as thrilling a story as any that has been put into print in many a year.

The author's knowledge and familiarity with the racing world and his horse-racing vocabulary give the book its tone of reality.

Sparke Thornton, an orphan boy who is at the age when his voice runs the scale, walks into the book on the opening pages and races through the entire story, ending with a winning horse, and your heart. There is suspense by the miles. And a love interest that coincides with the excitement of watching a race.

Mr. Chamberlain lays the scene of this book in the country surrounding Hartford, Connecticut, where horses and racing are the center of the sporting world. His characters, with Sparke in the lead, play out this drama with color, originality, suspense and thrills. The author likes his people and makes them likeable. The young people especially are depicted clearly for their loyalties, liveliness and emotions.

If I should continue to rave on about this little book, for it is a comparatively brief book, you might begin to think that reading the review is all that is necessary, when that is far removed from what is the truth. "The Phantom Filly" is one of the books that one must read to appreciate. No reviewer can do it justice. In its simplicity it ranks with any best-seller.

Watch Out for It

Quicksands usually occur on flat shores underlain by stiff clay or other impervious materials. They appear to be formed by the continued collection of water within the sand bank which is prevented from running off by the underlying impervious layer. The grains of quicksand have rounded surfaces. Quicksand is of very light weight. The infiltrated water separates and lubricates the particles, rendering them unable to support a heavy weight.

Refreshing Color Scheme

A bedroom with walls painted a fresh light green to match the rug presents an atmosphere of cool and refreshing charm. The furniture, painted gray-green with an applied design of garlands, blends pleasingly with pale green chintz made into quilted spreads and the pleated dressing table flounce with quilted yoke. Flowered hooked rugs, flowered chair covers and ecru curtains complete the harmony.

YOU CAN PROTECT YOURSELF

This article will present a few simple rules by which injury by war gases may be prevented or modified. If mustard or lewisite are used, the most serious injuries will result from the liquid agent. There fore,during a raid, remain inside, or go inside if you are out of doors.

Remember that war gases are heavier than air, and will cling to the ground. You can get away from the vapor by going to the upper floors of a building and by avoiding basements and other low places. Even after a raid, it is better to remain inside the upper floors of a building than to try to leave the gas area unless so directed. Your air raid warden will guide you to safety when it is safe for you to move.

Basic Rules for Self-Aid in a Gas Attack:

1. Self-aid is the best aid for the prevention of injuries due to war gases. War gases are usually not dangerous if you take steps immediately to remove them from the skin and eyes. Effective means to accomplish this are in the kitchen and bathroom of every home.

2. If you are inside a building, remain there and go upstairs. Do not leave your house unless it is absolutely necessary. If you are outside and not able to get indoors, immediately walk—don't run—to get out of the gas area. Avoid puddles of liquid gas, basements, valleys and other low places.

3. If you have been exposed to a war gas—

a. Breathe through cloths wet with baking soda solution.

b. Get inside a building if possible, but first remove your outer clothing and leave it outside.

c. Wash your hands first, and then your face, with laundry soap and water.

d. After cleaning your hands, wash your eyes at once with a large amount of a solution of baking soda; one teaspoonful of baking soda in a glass of water.

e. Take a bath, using plenty of laundry soap.

f. Wash your eyes again with baking soda solution.

4. If splashes of liquid gas have gotten on you—

a. Using small pieces of cloth, cleaning tissues or toilet paper, blot up as much of the liquid as you can, being careful not to spread it.

b. Daub the contaminated area with cloths wet with bleaching solutions containing sodium hypo-chlorite, such as, Clorox, etc.

c. Follow directions b, c, and d in 3 above.

5. Never get excited. Lie down and cover yourself with a blanket. Medical aid is on the way. There is no immediate serious danger from exposure to any known war gas.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Teamsters Union, in his last bulletin to members, voiced a forceful, sweeping condemnation of hot cargo practices and secondary boycotts during the war emergency—and a fervent appeal to labor to recognize its obligation to America during the nation's hour of peril—that should be pasted on every union bulletin board in the country.

Particularly, it should be read by Dave Beck, the Seattle leader of the Teamsters Union who put on the pressure in California and demanded that the bill enacted by the Legislature, banning secondary boycotts during the war emergency, be held up on referendum. Some of Mr. Tobin's remarks, in fact, read as if they may have been directed at Mr. Beck and other labor recalcitrants on the Pacific coast who are still insisting on a policy of "strikes as usual."

Said Mr. Tobin, "No matter what I say, I still find a number of local unions that refuse to obey the orders they receive from the International office relative to sympathetic strikes and the crossing of picket lines. Sometimes we are inclined to think that many of our members haven't the backbone to cross what we recognize as illegal picket lines.

"Yes, I know many of our unions have a clause in their contracts which reads that it shall not be considered a violation of the agreement to refuse to deliver goods where there is labor trouble. Let me say now, unless the International Union orders you not to go through picket lines, that clause must be set aside during the period of the war. If you can't comply with our International orders, which are founded on necessity and on orders from our government, then the best thing to do is to notify the International Union.

"Some members have to have a bomb dropped on the office of some local union in order to make them understand that our country is in danger; that our country is at war; that the labor movement has pledged itself to stand by our government and our country; that it is our duty to prevent a stoppage of work wherever it is humanly possible to do so.

"The International Union, in my judgment, will be called upon within the very near future, to forward to the federal authorities a list of the officers in any district who cause a stoppage of work without having sanction of the International. In other words, the federal government may demand of the International organization information as to what is going on in each district and why a stoppage of work has occurred, and who is responsible. And I might add that the officials of your International Union will not refuse to comply with the orders of the Federal Government."

Then Mr. Tobin concluded with this blast at the promiscuous use of hot cargo practices and secondary boycotts:

"The Teamsters are considered just plain suckers by many of those phony organizers who get 50 cents per head for new members, and the Teamsters do their dirty work for them by being so weak as to refuse to observe their own laws and thereby recognize the loafers' professional picket line.' '

There could be no more sweeping indictment of secondary boycott practices at this time than that. And it emanates not from labor's opposition, but from labor's own house — from a union leader who knows that this country is fighting the bitter battle for survival, and who is determined that the men of his union shall not shirk their responsibilities as American citizens.

The secondary boycott is a highly questionable practice at any time. In war time, it is an unpatriotic and dangerous practice. California voters need only remember that when they vote YES on Proposition No. 1 in November.

Hot or Cold, Either One

A new type of thermostat has a special dial which enables the homeowner to adjust the instrument in accordance with the individual control characteristics of the heating system. No two heating systems are exactly alike; they differ in firing rate and type of firing equipment, size and arrangement of pipes, and kind of fuel used. The special dial enables the operator to obtain various adjustments in addition to the usual type of temperature setting.

Unique Coffee Flavor

A case in point is the unique flavor of Puerto Rican coffee as compared with that grown in other West Indian islands. All the coffee trees in the Caribbean area are descendants of a single plant brought to Martinique in 1720 by M. Bagriel Mathieu de Clieu, a French naval officer, yet the coffee raised in the mountains of Puerto Rico has a richness and distinctive flavor found nowhere else in the world.

KEEP 'EM LISTENING

NEVER before in the history of the United States have public entertainers been assigned a greater task. Not only do our stars face the necessity of keeping their fans entertained, but it is even more important that they help to maintain civilian morale in this period of crisis. Among radio favorites who are carrying on through the summer and doing their bit are (1) Kate Smith with her daily "chins up" broadcasts, (2) Betty Winkler, in the role of a girl doctor in "Joyce Jordan," (3) Francis X. Bushman of "Those We Love," (4) Dorothy Kilgallen, famous Broadway columnist with her "Voice of Broadway" broadcasts recounting the activities of the great and near great, (5) Milo Boulton who presents war heroes in person on "We, The People," (6) Betty Worth, as a school teacher in "We Love and Learn," and (7) Tommy Riggs and his invisible but inimitable partner, Betty Lou. They "Keep 'Em Listening."

Discovery Spot

The village of Gaspe, Quebec, at the tip of the rugged peninsula of the same name is the site of Canada's discovery by Jacques Cartier in 1534. A granite cross on the hillside marks the spot where the St. Malo sailor claimed the land for the king of France.
